Tuition Assistance or the GI Bill to obtain a degree can not only improve your military career prospects, but it can improve your lifetime earning potential. In fact, college education benefits are one of the top reasons people join the military. The GI Bill is the most popular and well-known military education benefit. But it is mostly associated with taking college courses after leaving the military. Military members also have the option of using Tuition Assistance (TA) benefits while serving on active duty to take college courses. Using TA can be a great way to get a head start on your education. It's also what I used to complete my degree while serving on active duty in the Air Force. Each branch of the military offers Tuition Assistance benefits. The DoD authorizes each branch to provide education benefits of up to $250 per semester hour. However, each military branch can authorize different amounts, and other information you need to know. The Coast Guard updated their Tuition Assistance Benefits, effective October 1, 2020, through September 30, 2021. The rates after that will depend on the approved Coast Guard budget. Coast Guard budge per clock hour. TA has an annual maximum or "cap" of $3,750. This represents a $1,500 increase from the previous annual maximum of $2,250. The annual cap falls within each fiscal year (1 October to 30 September). Once the member uses the maximum allotted amount per year, no waivers will be granted for additional money. The established TA cap does not mean the Coast Guard guarantees to pay the full amount. Budget constraints may require further TA policy changes. See below for more ways to pay for your college education. What Does Coast Guard TA Cover? Tuition Assistance is available for undergraduate & graduate courses up to Master's Degrees. TA covers tuition up to $250 per semester hour, $166.66 per quarter hour, or $16.67 per clock hour. TA cannot be used for books, fees, or other non-tuition expenses. Any other college expense not listed as tuition is considered a fee (e.g. lab, graduation, internet usage, etc.). authorized school list can be found at the following website: www.dodmou.com. Reimbursement of TA will be required from the service member if the student does not successfully complete the course(s). For the purpose of reimbursement, a successful course completion is defined as a grade of a C or higher for undergraduate courses, a B or higher for graduate courses, and a pass for pass/fail grades. Eligible Study Programs Tuition Assistance is only available for Coast Guardsmen seeking their first degree at the Associate, Bachelor, and Masters levels. TA will not be granted for coursework at the same level or lower than a degree already possessed by the student. In other words, you can use TA to achieve an Associates or Bachelors Degree at that level, but you can't use TA to achieve a second degree at that level, but you can't use TA to achieve a second degree at the same level. TA can also be used for the following programs: High School Completion programs: Tuition for approved high school completion programs will be fully funded for personnel who have not been awarded a high school or equivalency diploma. Developmental courses may be authorized if required by the Institution prior to taking a higher-level courses. Alternative Funding Sources for Coast Guard Members Any form of Tuition Assistance benefits is a great benefit and can help you achieve your education goals more quickly. However, with the rising cost of tuition, the $2,250 annual cap on Coast Guard TA benefits doesn't go very far. These TA limits don't mean coast Guard members may be eligible to complete coursework or earn college credits through other means. For example, you can also view the Coast Guard Education expenses. In addition, Coast Guardsmen are still eligible to take CLEP and DANTES courses. These credit by examination courses are free and offer college credit upon passing. These exams played a large role when I achieved my degree while on active duty. Many institutions of higher education also offer credits for military service, potentially eliminating some required coursework en route to achieving a degree. Additional funding sources for college credits include utilizing the Montgomery GI Bill, Post-9/11 GI Bill, Post-9/11 GI Bill, Post-9/11 GI Bill, scholarships, and loans).
